Task 2: Not only in Vietnam but also in other countries, people always wear uniform or suit when they go to work or school. I am certainly that there are some advantages for this. Firstly, wearing a suit provides them with a certain level of stature. It gives them confidence. It helps them feel good about themselves. Well let me be the first to tell you that if you feel like you need a suit to gain that confidence, you got problems. The minute you open your mouth, all those people who might think you have a great suit, forget about the suit and have to deal with the person wearing it. Secondly, wearing jeans or T-shirts in offices it is a impolite act that illustrates you not respect your work and your boss. Clothes are depended on climate, situation and activity. There are three main important role for you when you decide what you wear before you go to work or go outside with friends and family.
