

Task 1: From: Lam To: Sam Cool, which band is it? Well, my favorite band is Coldplay. I listen to them everyday. They are really a good one. Their music is inspiring. Next week I will drop by your house and bring my Coldplay CD so we can listen their songs together. Task2: In my opinon, shopping online is better than going into shops. Because we can save time and money. Instead of going outside and looking for things we want to buy, we can just sit at home and easily search for them just by clicks on the computer or smartphones, things now all people have. After choosing a product, we go to that shop and take it home. Moreover, you can stay in your house and they will go to your home with the product. How convinient. However, we must be carefull since bad man can use the internet to fool us by giving fake information about the quality of the goods or we send them money but the goods is nowhere to be seen. My sister once bought a lipstick online and when she receive it, that lipstick is out of date. She had no choice but threw it away. Because it is an online shop, she couldnt do anything to have her money back. In conclusion, Shopping online is better than going into shops, but we have to make our choices carefully.
