

Task 2 Travelling alone helped me gain strength. With the first time traveling alone, on a plane or in a strange will definitely be a little tense, worried. However, before each trip you will receive useful advice, experiences from their predecessors. That will add to your confidence, strength in myself. Traveling alone helped me with many opportunities to meet new friends. Any trips near and far will be able to bring you new friends. Might just stumble on the train, on the road or in hotels, bars,... this will help you feel more confident and expanded relationships, help you learn a lot of skills and other life skills. Traveling alone Task2

Travelling alone helped me get more power. With the first time traveling alone, on a plane or in a strange place will definitely be a little tense, worried. However, before each trip you will receive useful Task 2: