

Task 1: Dear My, I am going to have a party next Friday night at my house. Would you like to come? It will be so much fun. I have invited some people from my university and you also know some of them - Nhi, Giang and Linh. Could you bring some sausages and some orange juice? You will help me to cook the meal, won't you? Hope you can come and see you soon, Ann. Task 2: There is a widely held perception in many parts of the world today that people working in offices should not wear jeans and T-shirts. Firstly, it is impolite to wear that kind of the clothes in offices. Casual clothes make you look unprofessional. Secondly, if you wear a T-shirt and jeans at work and a T-shirt and jeans on the weekend, can you differentiate between your work and your relax time? "Dressing casually could cause an employee to feel less focused and alert.", said by a professor of psychology. Besides, a lot of clothing has symbolic meaning for us, so people who are working in offices should wear uniform.
