There is one opinion that your ideal house only needs to be large. According to me, an ideal house is assessed by 3 aspects. Firstly, environment is one of the factors when we decide to choose house. I like clean atmosphere regardless of long or short distance. I can live in urban where my house is far from my university. I don't like crowed place with the traffic jam situation. I can relax my self with my place Secondly, it's not necessary that my house is large or narrow, the most thing is that it is decorated with favorite furniture for example the room will be furnished by wooden things; the walls would be painted in pink color and the interior would be also comfortable. Some beautiful flowers as red rose are good choice for my room. Some people like large house, it may be true for them but not me. Large space makes me feel lonely and scare. Thirdly, beautiful view is other aspect for my choice. I want to see some green plants in the street. It will create the good emotion when I get sadness To get the my ideal dream, I have to make effort much. I will live happily with my parents and future husband.
