

Task 1: Dear Troye Sivan, I have just had a birthday party two days ago. We had a wonderful time. We have played so many games like dancing, singing with friends, birthday cake and blow out the candles. That day, everyone gave me many present very beautiful. But I like the best is Minh's present. It is a T- shirt. It has white with a bear at the center. I'd love to wear this T-shirt because it make me comfortable. I will thanks her for that present. I know you will have a birthday party at next week, so I will give you a present. Hope you like it! See you soon. Bye, Ha.

Task 2: Nowadays, more and more people travelling by plane. Many people thinks that air line is very expensive and dangerous. In my opinion, Not only are airplanes continuously getting safer, they are also the least dangerous way to get to your destination. Everyday activities from walking to driving are still considerably more lethal. Last year, an MIT statistics professor determined that the death risk for passengers of commercial airlines is one in 45 million flights. According to The New York Times, a traveler could fly every day for 123,000 years and still be safe. Although travel fatality statistics are represented in a variety of formats, commercial airlines are the safest mode of transport any way you look at it. Few of us panic getting into a car, but they are actually 19 times more dangerous than planes: your chances of being involved in a plane crash are one in seven million. If you travelling by plane, it may be more expensive than car, bus, or train. But it you will have a service better. The truth is that we all know that flying to your destination isn't the most environmentally friendly way to go. Many emissions from plane lead to pollution. For me, I never travelling by plane so I don't know many this problem. I hope scientits will invent a modern and safer vehilce in the future.