It's about 5p.m. Best wishes, Nhung

Task 2: In my opinion, animals need to be lived in their wild environment. However, there are so many animals that be kept in the zoos now. It's very bad because of many reasons. Firstly, wild life provides animals the best conditional to live and develop. The jungle have abundance food such as leaves, fruits,... The competition to survive makes them stronger and independent. Secondly, if wild environment makes them feel free, the zoos are not. Animals is kept like they are a source of entertainment. However, some zoos opened for animals that are in danger of extinction. In conclusion, we should let animals be free in their real life.
