

Task 1: Hi Hang I have to sorry because I can't go swimming with you tomorrow evening. I have to stay at home because my parents will go out for my uncle's birthday. I would love to go with you on next Sunday. You can come to my house so we can go to the pool together. I feel so excited about our swimming. I hope that you don't busy on next Sunday. See you soon. Love you Tra Nguyen Thanh Tra Task 2: I think friends are important in our life. If you have a best friend, there is the only thing wonderful in your life. She is the one who are always there with you, whether the times are bad or good. But sometime you have so many friends are you best friends too. They never leave your side, even if the situation is worst. For them, it doesn't matter what day is it or what season. When you are sad, they give you good advice, and we can count on them to treat us nice. Friends solve our stupid problem and share good time so that joy can become double. Friends are the only one who accepts yourself, also correct you when you are wrong. Friendship is not a need, its not a thing, it is a love that make people stronger. It better than love between men and women. I think our life will have so many thing beautiful if we have friends to share with.
