

Task 2: As every one of us knows that couple of century, the climate on this planet was colder than now. And it is so surprising that even now it is not stable, it is increasing day by day. We are well aware and imagine its negative effects on our environment and body health. However, we are ignoring and continuing our bad habits which is flaming the global warming. The main causes of the global warming are increasing human population, deforestation, increasing effects of green house gases, many careless human activities,...Keep clean environment isn't only all ways are mentioned before but also to protect natural resources. That is way to conserve wild life. We need to conserve the old forest, build more safari and national park, and plant more trees to make place to live for wild animals.Besides, we need to prohibit hunters who hunt animals too many out of the law allowance. I hope everybody know look after planet our.
