

Task 1: Dear Leslie, I am very excited to receive an invitation to a party at your house on Saturday from you. On Saturday, I can come to a party and I will bring a friend.

Task 2: The most important festival in my country is Tet. It marks the beginning of lunar new year. Festivities occur throughout the country, but this family holiday and many of traditions of observance in the home. The official holiday lasts three days, but celebrations continue for at least the first week of the new year. On New Year's Day, most families meet to exchange gifts and have a traditional meal, and also perform a ceremony to appease the kitchen god. Homes are decorated with the hoa mai flower and all thoughts of sadness are supposed to be avoided. Children are encouraged not to fight or cry and anyone in mourning is shunned because it is bad luck to be associated with death on New Year's Day. Vietnam people have a custom every year whenever Tet reunion to go back home with the family. Many people like to pray before the shrine, visited the tomb or church forefather. Many people also want to revisit places they've been living with the family during adolescence. For many rural people from Vietnam, childhood memories can be attached to be wells, home yard. In short, the festival has enormous significance for Vietnam.
