

Task 1: Dear my friend, Anne Thank you for your invitation for me to join walking with you on the next Friday! So, i think we should have the list of place we will visit. Which place in Ha Noi you want to dicover most? I think we could go to the Old Stress. There is so many beautiful things in there. If you visit there in the morning and evening, you may have so many different feelings because of the shops, the peoples, the atmosphere. In the morning, we can wear the Ao dai and bring some flower to take some picture. It will be so lovely, fresh and really nice with the peace, with a really few people and the shops still closed. You will find the peaceful and quite atmosphere. And in the evening, we walk there and we can buy some souvernir at night market. Its really crowded and hot so i suggest we should wear the short or skirt and shirt Remember, you should bring the umbrella, it's maybe rainy while we walk I really happy to wait for the next friday for walking with you! Hope for the nice weather! Love, Binh

Task 2: In my opinion, "Travelling is waste of time and money" is not the right way when we think about the travel. At first, time and money never can give you the experiences but the travel can. I can make sure that because in the travel, you will be showed how your social skills are? It's about the way you prepare for the travel and how you use the time, use the travel at the place you chose, and also how you get a conversation, talking with a new people and set up the travel and how you so the problem without parents. So many things you will receive from it. The secondly, travelling is seem to be the exit when you can escape from the stress so time and many you ues is worth. And then, let's see, you can stil save time and money if you set up your travel in the clever way so it's not the same meaning with the word "waste". So many peoples choose the quoute " Life is travelling" and it's my choice too! I paid only one million VND for the travel to Co To with my friends and it was the unforgettable, i never think it waste my time and money. I know how the priceless of the sea is. We need more about our responsible for keep the see - life. If we don't have this travle, we will never have all the love, the thinking likes that. I love travelling!
