

Task 1: Ha Noi, 21st August, 2016 Dear Mary, Thank you for inviting me to your go to swimming tomorrow evening. I think the evening will be very great but I'm sorry, I can't go there and share the joy with you because I must visit my grandparents at the hospital! Their health situation is very bad now! I hope that you will sympathize with me. How do you fancy going out for a meal at the weekend? I hope so meet you in the next week. Love Quynh.

Task 2: There are many things to tell about my friends. If I think about friendship, I will think about my best friend firstly. Her name is Hoa, one of my schoolmates and we have known each other since we were 10 years old. Everyone would say she is very pretty if they were to describe how she looks. She has black almond-shaped eyes, a small nose, a small pointed chin, and especially long black hair. She is not very tall but not short either, I think such a Vietnamese girl is very nice. She does not like to dress up so her friends usually see her wearing jeans and a T-shirt or sweater. It seems like she and I used to talk or laugh about everything. She has a wonderful sense of humor but she can also get a little depressed sometimes. She and I are interested in many of the same hobbies. We like going to the movies but there are few movies presented in Yenbai. We used to walk around, try to find a new area of Yenbai to explore. We both like traveling, reading, and training to swim. Whatever we did, it seemed always fun to be with her. We still make time to see each other even when our lives get busy now. Since I was better in math and she was better in English, we could help each other if we got confused about a difficult homework assignment. I hope that our friendship will continue and be just as strong although we graduated from high school.
