

Task 1: Dear Leslie, Long time no see. On Saturday I'm having a party at my house. Can you come here? Would you like to bring a friend? I am going to prepare foods, drinks, ... in order that we can eat and talk. What do you like doing at parties? Love, My.

Task 2: We have many special festival such as: Thanksgiving day, Tet's holiday, Mid Autumn festival, ... One of the most important festivals in my country as well as other Asian countries is Tet, the Lunar New Year Festival. This festival celebrates the begining of a new year according to lunar calendar, which is around late January or early February. There are three main things which people need do in this festival. Before the New Year's Eve, family members clean and decorate their house with kumquat and peach trees. They also go to the shop for new clothes to wear on the special occasion or a lot of food for family gatherings. On the 30st night, family member gather together have happy and cozy meals together, eat the traditional foods, drink and sing cheerfully, make prayer for the prosperity of for the New Year and stay awake till late night to watch the fireworks. It is our tradition that on the first three days, people visit their relatives and teachers, friends, ... or go to the church, pagoda to pray for the good things. Other they can go tourist as a holiday to relax. This is my favorite festival because it is the only occasion when all my family members gather after a busy year. Besides, during Tet, I can completely relax and forget all about the trouble of the previous year. Lunar New Year has such significance in my country because we believe that, whatever happens during the first days will be repeated throughout the year. So, in order to have a new year full of good lucks, we have to prepare carefully for the most enjoyable festival.
