

Q36: task 1 Dear Lisa, It'll be nice too see you next Friday, I'd like to go walking in the Central park because it has many trees. I am going to wear a T-shirt, shorts, trainers and a hat. I'm going to bring a bottle of water and some cookies. I think you should bring water and something to eat, because you are going to feel hungry after walking a long time. See you at 6.30 am in front of the Central park. Love,
Van Q37: task 2 Travelling is waste of time and money, that is totally your call. However, I personally don't think travelling is a waste of money. It gives you a lot more back in return than the price you pay for it. It gives you personal, hands on experience - the real feel of the place. It rejuvenates your perception and outlook towards your life. The more you travel the more you learn which otherwise you may or may not have. It gives you a break from your busy daily routine. It gives you good memories which can be felt only by you and no one else. The experience of travelling is priceless but travelling costs... so budgeting is equally important. Travel more ,but travel smart too
