task 2 In my opinion, people working in offices shouldn't wear jeans and T-shirts. I think it is not suit for people work in offices. Jeans and T-shirts make people comfortable. But if people wear it in the office, it is impolite. Because offices is where people work to earn money. For example, when people wear clothes in offices, they will feel confident to work. In short, it good for people to work in office if they know to wear polite.
