

Task 1: Dear Ally, Oh, that's ok. On my birthday, I had a big party with my friends. I invited my friends in high school and in my university. They came here together and brought for me a lot of presents. I was given a dictionary, a hairpin, a dress,... I was so happy. I hope you can take part in my birthday next year. Love you, Phuong Anh

Task 2: "An ideal house only needs to be large." that is bad. Many reasons "Why You'll Be Happier in a Smaller House ?". The first, less time spent cleaning. And that should be reason enough... The second, less expensive. Smaller homes are less expensive to purchase and less expensive to keep (insurance, taxes, heating, cooling, electricity, etc.). The third, mentally freeing. As is the case with all of our possessions, the more we own, the more they own us. And the more stuff we own, the more mental energy is held hostage by them. Fourth, encourages family bonding. A smaller home results in more social interaction among the members of the family. Fifth, less decorating. While some people love the idea of choosing wall color, carpet color, furniture, window treatments, decorations, and light fixtures for dozens of rooms, I don't. The last, " we just love your smaller house and don't need a big house".
