

Task 1: Dear Ally, It was a pity that you didn't come to my birthday party. There is so much fun there. We had a big chocolate cake, many great drinks. People came to my house, give me best wishes, and congratulated me on my new job. Sarah, Bill, Linda came across and they gave me such beautiful presents. I was thrill. Their presents was so expensive that I can hardly afford one of them. We went for the bar that you and I met for the first time. We sang karaoke happily. It was such a great time. I was little sad because of your absence. I hope you can show up at my party next year. I'm looking foward to it. Love, My.

Task 2: It isn't necessary for a house to be large which would makes you happy. An ideal house is a house that bring you comfort, relaxment, happiness. It requires things that you need for your whole life.
