

Task 1: Dear Merry, How are you ? I haven't seen you for a long time, so I am writing to you to ask for your health , ask you why didn't come to my birthday party and talk about my favorite present. In that day, there were many people who are my family and my friend. I got a lot of gift from people but My favorite present is pink dress. This dress is a present from my mother who is an important person in my life. I love it. can you see me on saturday , are you ok? I hope we meet soon. best regard huyen

Task 2: Nowadays the best option for fast travel is by airplane, but the world's billionaires aren't exactly flying economy class with the rest of us. The National Transportation Safety Board compiles aviation accident data. Preliminary statistics for 2008 show only 20 accidents for U.S. air carriers operating scheduled service. This work out to nearly zero accidents per million flying miles. No one died, and only five people were seriously injured. tatistically speaking, flying is far safer than driving. However, it may feel more dangerous because risk perception is based on more than facts
