

Task 1: Dear Ally, It was a little bit sad for me that you didn't come to my birthday party. The party last week was quite awesome. First we had had dinner at a very fancy restaurant and then we came back to my house and danced the whole night. It was the best birthday party i have ever had. All most all my friends were there but you. It was quite a let down for me but i can get it. You was too busy studying for your final exam. I hope that you can come to my sister birthday next month. See you soon. Your best friend, Huyen

Task 2: In my opinion. i totally disagree with the ideal that an ideal house only needs to be large beacause of two main reasons. Firstly, living in a big house but alone only bring loneliness and sad. If you have a big but no family, just you alone. The large house only make you feel more sad and lonely. Moreover, it is very terrifying because if a burglar break in, it is very hard to notice. Secondly, if you live in a huge house but your parent always fight with each other, the house will never be an ideal house. everyone of us always want to be happy and cheerful when we come back to the house after a long day studying or working. So, it will be pointless if we return to our big house but only see parents fighting. A big house but have a broken marriage is worthless. In conclusion, an large house doesn't solve anything. An ideal house needs only happiness and love.
