

Task 2 Big family, what do you think? whether you grew up in a large family or your own family is big, there are many benefits of having a big family. I do agree there are some disadvantages too. When something happens, there's always someone who is ready to support you any time you need it. No matter what happens in your life, there is always someone who can help you and support you. In a big family, children can be both selfish and unselfish. if your brother doesn't care about you, your sister can risk her life to help you...A big family can accomplish any household chore faster than a smaller one. Is a big family the key to happiness? Their house is a joyful house. Their children all bring unique skills and personalities to our family. And disadvantages of a crowded family. Nowadays the number of uneducated and neglected children in the country seem to be increasing. These unruly kids, most of whom are from crowded families, are a matter of concern to the government. That's all. I do think so. Task 1 Hi Ally,
