

You can not live if you are alone. As rightly said " A friend in need is a friend indeed " . Friends are an important part of every individual life . They maybe teach you , make you learn new thing ,point out your mistakes .. and specially beside you whenever and wherever. Firstly ,they are usually one of the biggest strengths of a person apart from the family . It would not be wrong to say that good friends simply become a part of your family , the only difference being that family and blood relations are made by god but friend are made by individuals in their life. Secondly , friends can go for a coffee or for shopping with you . When you feel sad , friends will beside you , share with you and never let you lonely. They are the one with whom you can crack silly jokes and be crazy. They are always fun to be with and never allow you to get bored . Thirdly , Friends are not only important to love and care for you or enjoy with you but also to guide you and correct you whenever you do something wrong. Every time you require an honest opinion regarding anything about you , you can approach a true friend. She or he will always try to show you the right direction and help you choose the correct path. Let your life become interesting through adding true friend who will make you happy , give you the right advise and beside you whenever you need.
