Task 2 In a project "tourism future", page Skyscanner given forecasts that people can participate in the holiday touch to the moon. A village on the moon can serve tourists delight sunbathe all day which is a great idea. The resort area will be built in the poles or areas receiving continuous daylight and in the dark areas. In sunny places will be a chance for visitors to immerse in the sun all day. Of course bikini will not let them wear items on the universe that must have special maps to avoid freezing. Here will be the pool for tourists. People will be coming to stay at the resort in addition to the Earth with a spa Africa weight. The pillows in hotels, the future will be equipped with more massaging functions, each room is equipped with a separate meter to visitors is not affected by the difference of time zones ... So, the moon and space will be popular places to go on holiday in the future.
