

Task 1: To: hoangminh@gmail.com Subject: Invitation Dear Minh, Long time no see. Hope all's well in your world! I'm having a birthday party next Monday at my house. Would you like to come? It will be fun. A lot of people from my class are coming. And you know some of them - Lan, Mai, Cuc, Binh, Hieu and Hoa. Can you bring some chips and oranges? By the way Can you please help me buy two kilograms of watermelon? My house is opposite Nghia Do park, 21 Pham Van Dong street. It's next to Minh Khai secondary school and it's got a pink front door. Hope you can come and see you soon Your Sincerely, Thuong Task 2: I absolutely agree that people shouldn't wear jeans and T-shirts in offices. Let me tell you why. Frist of all, wearing jeans and T-shirts make you look like a student. When your boss see you wearing jeans or T-shirts at work place they will think that you are not professional and they will have a bad image of you. Secondly, jeans and T-shirts is just suitable for small parties. Thirdly, instead of wearing Jeans or T-shirts you can wear skirt. I'm sure that you will look prettier in that kind of clo
