

1. Task 1: Dear Ally Your friend Phuong 2. Task2: The family is the cell of society and the house where the family is doing this. It is not related to the size of the house was, just in that house always had the love between members of the family, to love, to share and care for each other. A family is always full of laughter. despite cramped space anywhere. It is not like the sorrow all day. locked himself in the large room that lacks the most important thing: it was an emotional family. For example, living in a big house but my parents go to work from morning to night, no time bella- you're interested in, that she is very sad tone. it is not the ideal life in the ideal house. For me, living in a normal house is not too large, k need modern and luxurious. not large enough to turn it into a curry house is not ideal but that affect me. I love my house though how it goes again. Because the house was sore that I feel I'm really happy and happy, I feel very important, loved by everyone, Finally, let's turn your house into an ideal, not to think up new ideas that you should stay home.
