Nowadays, shopping plays an important part in our daily life. Many people think that shopping online is better than going into shops. I totally agree with this opinion. Firstly, when you shop online , you don't have to worry about parking. Parking in town centres these days is a nightmare, and it can cost a bomb , too. Secondly, you can save money too. It is true that you can ghet some great bargrains online , but you also save money in other areas too such as transport, parking and lunch. Saving money on these things means that you can spend a little more in the online shops , and treat yourself! Afterthat , shopping online is much more convenient than going into shops because you can shop anytime of the day or night , you have freedom to shop whenever you like. Finally, you don't have to carry all the bags. There is nothing worse than falling in love with an outrageously large and heavy item and having to lug its around town, and then on the bus homw, or miles across the car lot to the only free parking space you found. In conclusion, doing any shopping online is better whatever the season in my opinion.
